- ✦ People who are thinking of making a career change – changing career paths at any time in our lives can be a difficult decision to make. Often we feel frustrated that we may have wasted years studying and working towards a career that we don't enjoy. It is therefore really important that you choose the right career path at this stage to avoid repeating the same mistakes.
- ✦ People who are deciding what qualifications and courses to take – embarking on any kind of formal study programme is an expensive commitment to make.
