LinkedIn Profiles

Having a strong online presence is becoming more and more important in your job search quest. Recruiters and employers are increasingly looking at your digital footprint before making employment decisions, so a strong LinkedIn that aligns with your personal branding is vital as this seems to be the medium of choice at the moment.

Our LinkedIn service will create or revamp your profile to produce strong content with results-orientated specifics that sells you in the best possible way. Whether you are actively searching for new jobs or just want a profile that provides a professional synopsis of your business, Careerlicious knows how to design, structure and create information that will impress people that view your profile.

Many people think that their LinkedIn profile should be a cut and paste job from their current CV. This is a mistake though as with LI, you have a much greater opportunity to add personality to the profile with details that tell readers more about you as a person.

Our LinkedIn service costs £125 and includes a telephone consultation where one of our writer's will work with you to really understand how you want to target the profile and the details of your relevant career experience. They can also advise you on other related LI functions such as job searching, networking and building an online reputation.

SPECIAL OFFER

Why not take advantage of a combination offer and order a CV and LI profile service together for a price of £225. This equates to a £99 saving on the price you would pay from ordering each service separately.
