PERSONAL 1:1 CAREER SESSIONS

Get professional career advice from an expert

We understand that making career decisions is not easy. Sometimes talking to someone about your career options can be a great way of helping you to choose the right course of action. That is why we now offer career sessions in addition to our career reports for those of you that want to benefit from 1:1 professional advice with a trained advisor. You will have up to 1 hour of personal time with a Career Consultant via telephone, skype or online messaging – whatever you prefer

When you order this service, we will contact you to find out your personal preferences regarding the Career Consultant session. We will then contact you on the agreed date and time by telephone, skype or online messaging.

To help you maximise your time with the Consultant ahead of the session, we will ask you for feedback on the service you received and send you some guidance notes to get you thinking about the types of things that you want to discuss with the Consultant. This will depend on the type of service you received.

Career Match – most people find discussing the 16PF Career Report with a Consultant extremely useful for making final career decisions. The report provides details on your personality and interests with a number of suggested career paths that are most aligned to your individual characteristics. Through discussion with the Consultant, you can explore your career options further and get advice on making the next steps to achieve your chosen career path.

Leadership Ladder – this report contains a lot of detailed report about your personality and how this is likely to shape your behaviour and thinking in the workplace. Through discussion with a Career Consultant, you can explore these themes further and work on creating a personal development plan to realise your career goals.

Interview Star – most people want to talk through their interview performance with a Consultant to really understand what they need to do to improve their technique and interview performance. The written report provided is extremely detailed, so people find it useful to discuss the feedback in more detail in order to perfect their preparation ahead of a real interview.
